First Baptist Church of Galax Blesses Waitress with $1,800 Tip

Rev. Sam Bartlett, pastor of First Baptist Church of Galax, recently finished up a sermon series titled “Living Inspired” that was based on the experience of losing his son, Deputy Curtis Bartlett, three months ago.

Pastor Sam wanted to help someone else going through a rough time. After some research, he found out about Danielle Walls, a waitress at the local Pizza Hut who had recently given birth prematurely to a young son. Her son is still in the hospital in Roanoke, and she was using her spare time and money to make the trip back and forth to visit him.

The church devised a plan to order 45 pizzas and have Danielle deliver them during a worship service, where she was presented with the largest tip she had ever received: $1,800.

Thank you, First Baptist Church of Galax, for making a positive Kingdom impact in your community!
